

Parent/Guardian Questionnaire for Counselor Statement

Please respond to the following questions. Be funny; be serious; be honest; be proud. This form adds to counselors' understanding of your student, which in turn enables us to write a more comprehensive counselor statement. The more we know, the better able we will be to help guide them. We hope that you will share your responses with them, however if there is information you wish to remain confidential, please let us know. We truly value your unique insight.

Please answer the following questions either in the space provided or in a separate document.

What do you consider to be their most outstanding personality traits and/or accomplishments over the past three years?

In what areas have they shown the most academic/personal growth during the past three years?

Are there any particular interests, projects, talents, or hobbies you might see that we are not aware of here? Are there any anecdotes that you might share with us that reveal their personal qualities, strengths, accomplishments?

Have they faced any personal challenges or difficult experiences which may have affected their academic or emotional growth?

Are there one or two major events that you see as turning points in their development? If so, please describe them and explain why you view them as such.

Is there anything else that you would like me to share in my counselor statement? Any anecdotes that reflect their uniqueness and/or personality?

Do I have your permission to quote from the above-mentioned statements?
